

Hello esteemed Artists and Art Lovers,

Now is the season to think about giving and making the world a better place. As you all know, the Fine Arts League of Cary (FALC) is a non-profit organization whose goal is to promote artists and the visual arts in the community.

We sponsor the Teen Exhibition of Wake County; we sponsor free and low-cost exhibitions for local artists to promote and display their art in many venues; we offer Free art related workshops monthly which are open to the public and we are frequently called upon by the community to assist in their art related projects.

All these projects cost money. While we do earn fees from sales and membership fees, that is not enough to support these projects effectively and completely.

We are so pleased our exhibitions have grown in size and number, which correlates with what our members and our community want the most from us. By increasing our exhibitions presence, we are elevating FALC to be more visible and comparable to other non-profit art organizations in the country. Let's continue on this road of growth!

To run these exhibits effectively, we have had to employ the use of CaFE to keep track of all that goes into supporting these venues. Again, this costs us money, which is well spent, especially if it gets us closer to our goal of improving FALC for its members.

We are asking you, our members and community supporters, who may need an end of the year tax deduction or just want to be charitable to a good cause in which we know you have an interest by being a member, to give.

Consider a charitable donation to our nonprofit FALC, it is tax deductible. You would be helping our young artists as well as allowing FALC to grow our wonderful and enthusiastic art community here and increase our artistic voice in the greater Cary area. Please give! Get involved!
